Anita Shapolsky Art Foundation

The Anita Shapolsky Art Foundation's Exhibition Center is located in a former Presbyterian Church in Jim Thorpe, PA. The church dates back to the 1800's. The unusual building provides a perfect setting to showcase the foundation's collection of American Expressionist Art. In addition to the collection, the two-story church is a wonderful tourist attraction; it has a most unusual layout for a late 19th Century building – with a stage and full living quarters in the rear. The second floor also has a stunning collection of beautiful stained glass windows by Tiffany, LaFarge, and others.

Mauch Chunk Opera House

Built in 1881; The Mauch Chunk Opera House served the community as a market-house and town hall. Addison Hutton, a Philadelphia architect, designed the building. Eventually, the opera house became a regular stop on the old Vaudeville Circuit, with entertainers like Al Jolsen performing regularly. John Phillip Sousa also delighted audiences with annually scheduled performances. The building became the Capitol Movie Theater in 1927 and then a warehouse in 1959. After years of neglect, it was taken over by the Mauch Chunk Historical Society who restored it to its former glory as a venue for live performance and cultural events. All these years later, music-lovers and theatergoers still appreciate the intimate space and excellent acoustics of the Mauch Chunk Opera House.

Carbon Chamber & Economic Development

The CCEDC is a member-centric organization. We are committed to providing our members with a STRONG Chamber and plenty of opportunities for networking as well as for business and community growth. The backbone of our organization is our leadership: board of directors, CCEDC staff and volunteer committee chairs; however, the true strength of the CCEDC comes from our volunteers, sponsors and members. In addition, we are also continuously partnering and collaborating with other like-minded organizations, such as: the Greater Lehigh Valley Chamber of Commerce and the Greater Hazleton Chamber of Commerce to not only expand the reach and opportunities for our members but to also add to our organization's STRENGTH.

Economic Development in Carbon County began in the 1950's with the establishment of the Bureau of Economic Development. Over the years, there have been two staff members, the Director, and an Administrative Assistant. The Harry Packer Mansion

The Harry Packer Mansion Inn is located in the little Victorian village of Jim Thorpe, PA. Jim Thorpe is a scenic paradise nestled between three mountains in northeastern Pennsylvania. The town is an oasis of perfectly preserved history; the architecture is purely Victorian. Perched atop Packer Hill, just steps from historic downtown, the Harry Packer Mansion sits like a sentinel overlooking the village. The mansion's impressive facade could have been taken from a Gothic novel, so much so that the building's design caught the eye of Disney Imagineers and it became the inspiration for Walt Disney World's "Haunted Mansion!" The interior, however, is anything but spooky. Fifteen foot ceilings, marble fireplaces and gilded mirrors reflect the elegance of the Victorian Age. The guest accommodations in the mansion and the adjoining Carriage House are furnished with period antiques, luxurious fabrics, and carefully selected artwork. In addition to offering overnight accommodations the Mansion also hosts Murder Mystery Weekends, First Friday Wine Tastings, Private Functions and Self-Guided Tours. The newest addition to the mansion is Libations Lounge, where you can sit back and relax with your favorite beverage in a setting unlike any other.

Jim Thorpe Memorial & Monument

James Francis Thorpe was born in the Plains country of Oklahoma Territory on May 28, 1888. A member of the Sac and Fox tribe, his mother named him “Wa-Tha-Huck”, which means “Bright Path.” That is certainly what lay ahead of his athletic career. While attending Carlisle Indian Academy near Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, Jim Thorpe excelled at football, track, and basketball. In 1912, he became the star of the Olympics – breaking record after record and earning gold medals for both the pentathlon and decathlon.

Jim Thorpe went on to play professional football and became the first president of the American Football League – what is today known as the NFL or National Football League. He also played professional baseball for both the New York Giants and the Boston Braves. Stricken with cancer, Jim Thorpe died of a heart attack at his home in Lomita, California on March 28, 1953.

To honor the athletic legacy of this Native American Indian, the towns of Mauch Chunk (pronounced “Mock Chunk” and meaning “Mountain of the Sleeping Bear”) and East Mauch Chunk united in 1954 to form the new town of Jim Thorpe, Pennsylvania. On Memorial Day of 1957, Jim Thorpe was laid to rest in a beautiful, twenty-thousand-pound, red granite mausoleum – paid for by the progressive “Nickel a Week Fund.” Today, countless guests honor this man by visiting his final resting place year-round.

A new congregation sympathetic to the views of the Evangelical Church Association erected the first church building in 1844. While hunting, Philip Ginter discovered anthracite coal on Sharp Mountain in 1791. He showed it to Colonel Jacob Weiss, a prominent area settler. In 1792, Weiss and others formed the Lehigh Coal Mine Company, the first anthracite company and a forerunner of Lehigh Coal and Navigation. Appalachian Trail

The Appalachian Trail is the longest hiking-only footpath in the world, ranging from Maine to Georgia. In 1926, planners of the Appalachian Trail asked hiking club members to locate and build 102 miles of the Appalachian Trail through the wilderness along the mountaintop from the Lehigh River to the Susquehanna River. Monuments, cabins, and rest stops were built along the way. After five years of volunteer labor, dedication of the completed section was held on October 12, 1931. The Blue Mountain Eagle Climbing Club currently maintains a 64.4 mile section of the trail along the Blue Mountains from Lehigh Furnace Gap Road to Rausch Gap, with the exception of a section between Bake Oven Road and Tri-county Corner.
