

Automobile Risk Management Considerations

Every auto collision presents the risk for a serious accident and injury; therefore, a proactive approach to manage the auto risk very important. This guideline can be used to evaluate your policy to manage fleet operation risks which includes hiring, training, driver records, and accident reporting. A "NO" answer may indicate a risk to evaluate further. The checklist is designed for private passenger fleets with limited truck use. Operation of larger vehicles with specific DOT requirements may require additional controls.
