Human beings crave both change and stability. Hopefully 2019 will be a year when we can find a healthy balance between these competing needs.

Some major business changes under way in the South County area include the recent sale of Honda of Morgan Hill (soon to be renamed Victory Honda), the bankruptcy and subsequent County of Santa Clara acquisition of St. Louis Hospital and the De Paul Medical Center, the sale of Infineon's RF power device division (and that division's Morgan Hill HQ) to Wolfspeed/Cree and the sale of Mission Bell Manufacturing. This past year saw major new businesses such as Golden State Assemblies move to Morgan Hill as part of their rapid expansion. We also continue to see major construction throughout the city, notably including the new four restaurant complex built at the site of the formerly derelict closed storefront at 3rd and Monterey and major mixed use projects nearing completion on Depot Street in the downtown core complementing the nearly built out Granary District on Depot's northern end. These past few years have seen over $50 million of investment in Morgan Hill's downtown core after at least two decades of stagnation, and the majority of that money has come from private investors. Communities throughout our region look enviously at what is going on in downtown Morgan Hill. Even though that news is mostly positive, it has come with consequences for some of the smaller businesses which can only survive in a relatively low space rent cost environment. The redevelopment and reinvigoration of downtown Morgan Hill has made it too expensive for users who historically would have located there.

After many years of relative stability, we find ourselves in the midst of many local elected leadership changes. Morgan Hill's city council has two brand new members, John McKay and Yvonne Martinez-Beltran. Although they are new to their elected positions, both were sitting planning commissioners until their election and thus bring with them an understanding of local development policies and practices. Given the City Council's large role in development issues their combination of experience and history of community engagement should serve the community well as they take on bigger responsibilities. Morgan Hill also has a new mayor for the first time in many years, Rich Constantine. Again we are fortunate that Mayor Constantine served two terms as a council member before winning the mayoral election.

Numerically the biggest local government change was the election of five new Morgan Hill Unified School District Trustees. Shortly after the election, Trustee Murillo (holder of one of the two trustee positions not up for election) announced her decision to resign as of the end of January. The remaining Trustees intend to appoint a replacement through a public interview process. Please have a look at mhusd.org for details of the planned replacement trustee appointment process.

New state assembly member Robert Rivas brings us new representation in Sacramento. Mr. Rivas was until recently a county supervisor in San Benito County while also being both a high school counselor in Hollister and an instructor at Gavilan College. Expect to see a lot of Member Rivas as he continues being visible and engaged throughout the region he serves.

Dan Keith

Rocca's Market - San Martin, CA

Dan Keith is a hometown guy, born & raised in Morgan Hill & San Martin. Most days Dan can be found behind the meat counter at Rocca's Market, where people travel from all over South County to try his famous smoked salmon and handmade sausage. Summertime Friday Nights will find Dan managing the Friday Night Music Series beer tent, greeting attendees with a genuine smile and an ice cold beer. He loves the outdoors and frequently walks the trails of Harvey Bear Ranch Park.

Angelia Guglielmo

Guglielmo Winery - Morgan Hill, CA

Angelia was born and raised in Morgan Hill. Moved to Switzerland out of high school to go to school. Being super young and home sick I came back early and moved to SLO for more schooling. Lived in SLO for 10 years. Moved to Florida to go through a Marine Technician program, got my certificate and moved to Boston. Worked on boats for 2 years, and also started working in restaurants to make money during the winters. Got out of the boat technician industry and became a restaurant manager at Joe's American Bar & Grill. Also started working with dogs, learning to become a dog trainer. Was provided the opportunity to come back to Morgan Hill to join the family business, and jumped at it. I returned home with a passion to carry out the heritage and legacy of the Guglielmo Family Winery that started with my grandfather in 1925. I will be taking on the position of Customer Relations and Sales Development. My love of people and strong hospitality background will create a unique experience for winery guests visiting from all around the world. The homecoming is a special moment for myself and my family, as I return to the place where I grew up reliving the fond memories of playing at the winery with my brothers, sister and many cousins.

Angelia also loves photography, being outside in nature, being around water, and hanging around animals, especially dogs

Jachimowicz Law Group - Morgan Hill, CA

I graduated from Santa Clara University School of Law in 2011. I am a partner in a small, family owned law firm, the Jachimowicz Law Group. We specialize in Criminal Defense, Personal Injury and all manner of Civil Litigation. I am passionate about serving the small business community and educational outreach to the youth of our community. My wife, former councilmember Caitlin Robinett Jachimowicz, is also an attorney with our firm. We have two small children and love to spend time exploring Morgan Hill. I look forward to providing a unique perspective to the Chamber, as a lawyer, father, and small business owner.

The school is located at 1825 De La Cruz Boulevard, Suite 105 in Santa Clara, California.

Mission View Wines

Emmie was born in Isparta, Turkey. After graduating with a degree in Education from Gazi University, Ankara, she moved to California in 1977. Emmie received her Bachelors Degree in International Relations from San Francisco State University in 1981 and a Masters Degree in Political Science from University of California, Berkeley in 1983. Emmie's professional career has involved her in a number of business start-ups, including early childhood development programs, temporary employment for early childhood teaching professionals, vocational teacher training and, since 2000, Emmie has managed her own home health care agency. More recently, she has turned her attention to a life-long passion – wine! She is currently exploring several business ventures in the wine industry. At present she is practicing as an independent wine consignor for a well-known group of vineyards and specializes in arranging private wine-tasting and education events for small groups. Emmie can also be found assisting in the tasting rooms of local wineries.

Assemblymember- Robert Rivas

Assemblymember Robert Rivas has deep roots in the 30th District. He grew up with his brother in farmworker housing, cared for by his single mother and grandparents, who emigrated from Mexico in the early 1960s. As a boy, Rivas watched his grandfather fight for farmworkers' rights alongside Cesar Chavez. Meanwhile, Rivas struggled to overcome a severe stutter that rendered him almost speechless. His mother spent all of her savings on speech therapy, and it was only after years of work that Rivas was able to overcome the disability. Inspired to help others overcome their own life challenges, Rivas chose to pursue a career in public service. Rivas worked his way through college to earn a Bachelor's in Government from CSU-Sacramento, and later obtained a Master's in Public Administration from San Jose State University. Then, he worked for Assemblymembers Simon Salinas and Anna Caballero. These experiences allowed Rivas to spend time in his community, get to know the concerns of his neighbors and assist the Assemblymembers as they advocated for their constituents in Sacramento.

Encouraged by community members who followed his years of work in local government, Rivas first ran for Supervisor in 2010. Voters responded to his energy and passion, and he won with over 70% of the vote.

During Rivas' eight years of service on the Board of Supervisors, he fought to create more affordable housing and worked with the business community to bring jobs to San Benito County. He led efforts to repair local roads, reduce traffic congestion, and negotiate contracts with local firefighters to reduce costs and expand access for rural residents. While he stood up for transparency on the board, he also became a fierce advocate on behalf of the environment. Rivas will always listen to the needs of his community—whether they relate to the environment, transportation, education, jobs, housing, or healthcare. He works on the following committees within the California State Assembly: Agriculture, Appropriations, Government Organization, Local Government, and Rules.

Assemblymember Rivas lives in Hollister with his wife, Christen, and their two-year-old daughter, Melina

Floss Family Dentistry, Dr. Mona Chattha

I grew up in San Jose, CA, and attended the University of California, Irvine for my undergraduate degree in Biological Sciences. Shortly thereafter I ventured out and attended Meharry Medical College in Nashville, Tennessee. My family and love for Northern California brought me back to the Bay Area where I have been working as a dentist for the past 11 years. Through my various experiences, I learned how to deal with all types of patients and their oral health needs, and decided to start my own practice in Morgan Hill. My love for working with my hands and helping people led me to choose dentistry as my profession. Going to the dentist shouldn't be scary! I am very passionate about teaching patients about their dental needs and believe in explaining the procedures in a step-by-step fashion to help eliminate any anxiety they might be feeling. My patient's comfort is very important to me, and I genuinely want them to have a positive experience during their visit. I strive to learn more, through continuing education classes focused on cutting-edge technological developments in the dental world, so that I may build upon my vast knowledge of dentistry to provide the best possible oral health care to my patients.

I am very lucky to have my family, husband, 7-year-old daughter and 4-year-old son, support me—when they're not busy driving me bonkers, of course! In my free time, I enjoy doing arts and crafts, going on scenic bike rides and decorating cakes!

Disabled Access Requirements

What Building and Businesses owners should know and do.

Click on the PDF's below to expand and read the important information from the City of Morgan Hill and Chamber of Commerce breakfast Seminar on ADA regulations.

Small Business ADA Lawsuit Workshop: Notes

Avoid a Lawsuit and Understand Your Ongoing Responsibilities

Many small businesses are sued every year for not providing features that enable disabled persons to readily access their business. Take steps to ensure that your building or business complies with the accessibility requirements of California Building Code, ADA Guidelines, and all state and federal regulations pertaining to accessibility. Remember that accessibility requirements may evolve over time, and are an ongoing responsibility. This fact sheet outlines the most common current accessibility requirements and provides resources that can help you comply.

"To, Through and Within" Rule Applies in California

By meeting the accessibility requirements in Title 24 of the California Building Code, a building or business owner will meet federal ADA construction guidelines. The stricter state code provides the minimum requirements to ensure that buildings and related facilities are accessible for every member of the public. The essential rule in state code is that access is to be provided "to, through, and within the buildings where the general public is concerned." Here are the top three requirements for bringing an existing building -regardless of building use or "occupancy classification" -into compliance with California Building Code:

Provide an Accessible Route to the entrance	At least one accessible route shall: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Lead to the building entrance from the site boundary, Whether from public streets, sidewalks, accessible parking or passenger loading zones, or public transit stops.</li><li>Coincide with the general public route to the maximum extent feasible.</li><li>Connect accessible buildings, facilities, and spaces that are on the same site.</li></ul>
Provide an	Buildings with three or more

Speaker- Eric Blomquist, Building Official, City of Morgan Hill

A city's building department is tasked with enforcing the California Building Codes at the local level, however it is NOT the building department's task to enforce Federal ADA Law compliance. Any structures built prior to 1992 are grandfathered in and do not need to satisfy the current Building Codes, UNLESS a permit is submitted for improvements/upgrades on the building. At that point, 20% of the funds of a project of $161,000 will need to be routed towards "path of travel" upgrades. When purchasing a property you assume 100% of the liability for that space including ADA compliance issues that have not been addressed.

Speaker- Roger Miller, CASp Accessor

Ignorance of the law is NOT an excuse! Every business owner was notified of their compliance responsibilities in the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. This act was meant to protect disabled individuals, identifies as those who can "participate in day to day life." Over 50 million people in the United States are disabled and that number is expected to double by 2030. The disabled represent a 3-trillion dollar market segment when factoring in their family, friends, co-workers, clients, etc. There are a total of 715 Certified Access Specialists or CASps. These specialists are hired to inspect a building, draft a report of noncompliance findings and implement a plan for improvements. Most ADA Lawsuits address parking space, ramp, signage, loading zones, access, counter height and hardware issues. Having an active implementation plan in place can reduce the probability of an ADA Lawsuit.

CASp Surveys can cost between $1,500-$2,500

Speaker- Naomi Hayashi, Farmers' Insurance:

Most businesses have some kind of insurance. Make sure that you have EPLI (Employment Practices Liability Insurance) which covers set attorney fees for 3rd party lawsuits and sometimes even covers CASp Inspections! EPLI is also bundled with Products Liability Insurance. Please review the document attached below.

Speaker- Josh Jachimowicz, Jachimowicz Law Firm:

If you are served with an ADA Lawsuit first check your insurance policy, second call your attorney and third document EVERYTHING with pictures, employee interviews, etc. There is no pre-litigation notice required to be served prior to an ADA Lawsuit being issued and once you receive the lawsuit paperwork you have 21-30 days to respond to the lawsuit before a default judgment is issued. If you lease the building your business resides in, who is liable for the lawsuit? The general rule of thumb is anything

January 24th - Fundraising Workshop @ Cinnabar Hills Golf Course

Organizer of "6-Figure Fundraising Events - How to Monetize & Missionize Every Minute!" Lunch & Learn Seminar

Guest Speaker: Dee Dee Kiesow, BAS, PRI, Fundraising Strategist, Trusted Advisor, Professional Benefit Auctioneer

After 25 years of award winning-fundraising and millions raised in the non-profit sector, Dee Dee was faced with a decision to jump from a professional fundraising job to meet demand of other charities needing her help in event fundraising. Some had more than doubled their paydays with her unique system and the demand was growing.

After some soul-searching, the "Queen of the ASK" decided it was time to parlay her talents to help more charities have 6-figure paydays. She founded Benevent Auctions and Fundraising.

Her mission: To teach non-profit leaders how to raise maximum dollars per minute at events while engaging long term donor partnerships.

HOWELL TRIBUTE SCULPTURE

Sue Howell founded WERC in 1990. For more than 25 years the center has been located on Sue's property in Morgan Hill and she has devoted her life to the rehabilitation of native wildlife and the education of thousands of children in local schools. In honor of all Sue's contributions to the community, We have taken a proposal to the Morgan Hill City Council, and gotten approval for, the installation of a life size bronze sculpture of Loki on the wildlife trail at the CRC. Loki was there at the beginning of WERC and was a big part of the education and rehabilitation effort. He was the original logo for the center and Sue's favorite owl ambassador.

This tribute is funded solely by community donations. Please contribute today so the sculpture can be installed soon. Make checks payable to: Howell Tribute Sculpture

You may also give by going to werc-ca.org and click on the "Tribute" button for instructions.
