About the Homebuilder's Association of Greater Little Rock

The Home Builders Association of Greater Little Rock (HBA-GLR) is a Central Arkansas based trade association. As the "voice of the housing industry", our association monitors legislative issues on the local, county, state and national levels. Affiliated with the Arkansas Home Builders Association (AHBA) and the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB), we provide an atmosphere for networking and information sharing among members and promote affordable home ownership in our communities.

Mission Statement

The Home Builders Association of Greater Little Rock is the voice of the housing industry. Our goal is to support our members through education and to serve as an advocate for industry professionalism.

Member Benefits

Here are a few of the exciting resources available to members:

THREE-IN-ONE MEMBERSHIP – When you join the local HBA, you also join the State (AHBA) and National (NAHB) at the same time! Each one has its own distinct members-only value like a self-funded workers comp insurance program through AHBA and FREE legal advice and up-to-date housing data through NAHB. Log onto www.nahb.org to personally tailor your membership experience. NAHB also provides a Member Advantage Program with a expansive list of member discounts – see page 15 for details!

EDUCATION – From Building Codes and Lein Law Seminars to Marketing Your Business and Round Table Discussions, the association continues to make member education a priority. Most sessions convene quarterly and include a complimentary lunch – one way of saying thank you for your time.

POLITICAL ACTION – Fearful that impact fees might be levied in your area? Want to change a local building ordinance? Then use the collective voice of the association to strengthen your position. In addition, the HBA has its own local Political Action Committee (HOME PAC) whose mission is to support industry-friendly candidates.

NETWORKING AND SPECIAL EVENTS – There is no better way to meet your peers than through the association. After all, can you think of another place that brings together builders, developers, and associates in fun and creative ways? All of our events are no-pressure ways to make new connections and increase your exposure. The only catch is that you (or your staff) must be present to make this happen!

President's Profile

Having been raised in the residential construction industry, it seemed only natural that Justin Keener would pursue a career path building homes. After graduating from the University of Arkansas, Justin officially joined his mother's and step-father's company, Billy Hartness Construction, and has never looked back. "The opportunity to work in this business, and to learn and grow every day, has truly been a blessing and something I will always be grateful for."

Billy Hartness Construction has operated in central Arkansas since 1987 and focuses primarily on new residential construction and additions/remodels in the Greater Little Rock area. "We pride ourselves on our combined experience and the ability to implement a vision from design to completion. The best part of my job is working with a client to meet their goals and expectations while staying within their budget. We strive to give our customers the most bang for their buck!"

As president of the HBA-GLR in 2016, Justin wants to encourage a spirit of participation amongst the membership as well as with the community as a whole. "Of course, a primary goal is to build membership, but I feel an active association will help to promote all of the HBA's ideals and make it a desirable organization for prospective members. We really want to promote the importance of our industry and our association within that industry. If everyone participates, it opens the door for great ideas, networking opportunities, and educational experiences. These things will keep us on the cutting edge and serve to advance the HBA as the 'go-to' resource for the community when addressing any residential construction needs. 2016 should be an exciting year, both in our industry and in our association!"

Justin is a Certified Green Professional (CGP) and a Certified Aging in Place Specialist (CAPS) as recognized by the NAHB.
