Dear Chamber Member,

As I write this, CVB staff and volunteers are breaking down the lowa State Fair booth after another big year. It takes nearly 100 individuals to staff the booth which regularly attracts thousands who stop by to see what's brewing in Boone County tourism. A big thanks to you if you were able to help out. Our attention now turns to the 2016 Farm Progress Show. The activity out on Highway 17 and US 30 has been picking up these past few weeks. As the show approaches we've assembled a web page to help show visitors and those just trying to navigate in and around the Central Iowa Expo site next week, Tuesday through Thursday. Check out the next page of the E-News for a link to that info.

I had the pleasure of meeting the new Provost for the Boone Campus of DMACC, Dr. Drew Nelson, last week in my office. Dr. Nelson has a dynamic personality and a ton of energy he's ready to invest in our local community college. I have a hunch you will see him out and about in the community quite a bit in this first year. It's the first day of school across lowa tomorrow, take extra care moving through town and along rural roads looking for students and buses.

Business After 5 is back tomorrow night at Midwest Insurance Corporation, 1516 South Story Street (just south of the old Redeker's building). This is a great opportunity to get back into the swing of things and meet up with fellow Chamber members. Lastly, have you taken five minutes to answer our survey? The Chamber sent out the first of what we plan to be a sequence of simple, quick surveys to gauge your thoughts on the subjects that will help shape our programs, events and organizational direction for the coming years. If you haven't done so yet, follow this link to share your opinion with us.

Have a great week!

Sincerely,

Kunt 12. Phillips
