

From Intervention Informatics to Prevention Informatics

Dr. Fuller is a Professor in both the School of Public Health and the Information School, of the University of Washington. Professor Fuller is also Co-Director of the UW Center for Public Health Informatics. She received her BA (Biology) and MLS (Information Science) degrees from Indiana University and her PhD (Information Science) from the University of Southern California. Dr. Fuller is a Fellow of both the American College of Medical Informatics and the Medical Library Association (MLA).

School of Library
& Information Science

The UK School of Library & Information Science is pleased to present the first in an annual lecture series funded by the American Society for Information Science and Technology (ASIS&T).

Hyatt Regency Hotel,
4pm, Monday, April 11
Reception to follow.

In conjunction with the annual Public Health Systems and Services Research Keeneland Conference. Other co-sponsors include the UK College of Communication and Information Studies, the College of Public Health, and the Ohio River Valley chapter of ASIS&T.